

MCPA:

Providing professional development opportunities for over 50 years

MCPA is Michigan's comprehensive student affairs organization. Our members come from a wide array of student affairs and academic affairs functions from institutions all over the state of Michigan and work in areas such as Academic Advising, Residence Life, Career Services, Student Activities, Multicultural Services, and many others. Our members represent over 40 different institutions across the state of Michigan, including both 2-year and 4-year as well as private and public institutions. We appeal to all levels of professional experience from graduate students to teaching faculty and from new professionals to senior student affairs officers.

Being a comprehensive organization not only impacts the make-up of our membership but it also influences our purpose and programming. MCPA recognizes that members of the higher education community are connected through a commitment to college student learning and development. To assist our members in fulfilling that commitment, we strive to provide opportunities for personal and professional growth that will enhance the work of all student affairs professionals regardless of functional area, institutional type, or years in the field. We focus our programming on information regarding effective programs, research, theory development, diversity issues, legal issues, and ethical dilemmas in the areas of student development relevant to institutions of higher education in Michigan.
